

COMMITTED TO INCLUSIVE EXCELLENCE

U.S. News & World Report ranks Clemson University among the top-25 public universities in the nation. To further the University's goals of inclusive excellence, Clemson Inclusion and Equity hosts the Clemson University Men of Color National Summit to promote higher education by increasing the number of college graduates among African-American and Hispanic males. Through Clemson's Tiger Alliance program, these young men receive guidance on achieving academic and professional success from high school to college and beyond.

CLEMSON LEADING THE WAY

- Call Me MISTER® increases the pool of available teachers from a broader, more diverse background.
- The Charles H. Houston Center for the Study of the Black Experience in Education examines issues that impact the educational experiences of African-Americans.
- Clemson Career Workshop supports college readiness of high-achieving students from diverse populations.
- Emerging Scholars helps establish a college-going culture among students from the state's economically disadvantaged areas.
- The Harvey and Lucinda Gantt Multicultural Center supports and advocates for all Clemson students' needs while providing diverse and experiential learning opportunities.
- PEER/WISE provides collaborative experiences for underrepresented students and women in science and engineering.
- Tiger Alliance mentors and prepares African-American and Hispanic high school males for college entrance and success.

CLEMSON® UNIVERSITY

April 25-26, 2019

The summit brings together approximately 2,000 high school and college students, business professionals, educators, government officials and community leaders from around the country.

clemson.edu/menofcolor

#ClemsonMOC

Clemson University is the 2017 recipient of the HEED award for demonstrating an outstanding commitment to diversity and inclusion.